Subject. Bonus and a compassionate allowance to the widow of the late Mr Narasing Bhan Amildar of the Davangere Taluk.

Memorial Registered No 2147 dated the 21st Dec 03 from Janaki Boyee widow of the late Mr Narasing Bhan.

This memorial addressed to His Highness the Maharaja was forwarded by the Private Secretary to H. H. the Maharaja, to the Dewan for favour of opinion. In this memorial, the widow states that her husband who was the Amildar of the Davangere Taluk, succumbed to plague on the 4th September 1903, while engaged in taking such measures as were necessary to Stamp out the disease, that he has left behind him helpless and four young children children (three daughters and a son only seven years' old), that he has not laid by anything for the support of his family except ~~for~~ three Life Insurance Policies under the Govt which would bring in a sum of Rs 1925/, that this small amount is hardly sufficient to bring up and educate her young children, marry and settle the three daughters in life and prays that, in consideration of her husbands' hard and honest services rendered to the State and untimely death while on plague duty, she may be favoured with a suitable bonus and a compassionate allce. On this memorial, a report was called for as per Secretariat order from the Deputy Commr ~~(illegible)~~ Chitaldrug Dt and Mr Thengiah Chetty — Mr Thengiah Chetty says in his reply that "as he knows the

the late Mr Narasing Row and his affairs well, he can — unhesitatingly vouch for the truth of the statement that he left no property except three Life Insurance Policies of the value of Rs 1925" and that he is of opinion that the memorial deserves very — favourable consideration of Govt.
The Dy Comm^r of the Chittaldrug Dt^t in describing in his report the valuable services rendered by Mr Narasing Row at — Davangere, says that it — seems extremely probable that he caught the infection in the discharge of his duty and strongly recommends the prayer of the memorial for the favourable consideration of Govt.
On receipt of these reports, the Secretary orered as follows:—

"To P2a

Please put up a note. I think a pension not exceeding Rs 25/may be granted"

(Sd) H. V. R.

In

In fixing the maximum amount of pension at £257. the Secretary perhaps refers to art: 380 of the Service Regulations which relates to the grant of extraordinary pension to the family of a Govt officer killed in the execution of his duty. In the present instance, the Amildar seems to have caught plague while in the execution of his duty and died in consequence. It has been decided by Govt in Pro: No. Pol A 301 dated 20th August 03 that the concession of granting extraordinary pensions under Chapter XXI of the Mysore Service Regulations cannot be extended to the families of Govt Servants other than the Police But Govt have sanctioned scholarships to the sons of many Govt officers who died while in harness. Submitted to His Highness.

The late Mr. Narsing Bhan who was Amildar of Davangere died of plague in September last at Davangere. The widow has applied to His Highness for help on her own behalf as well as on behalf of her four minor children, three girls and a boy, aged respectively 13,4,2 and 7. Mr. Ramanuja Iyengar, the Deputy Commissioner of Chitaldrug, has said that it is extremely likely that Narsing Bhan caught the infection in the discharge of his duty. Mr. Chengia Chetty under whom Narsing Bhan served for some years is aware of the circumstances of the family and says that excepting a Life Insurance bonus of Rs.1925, he has left no other property. Narsing Bhan had served the State for 27 years at the time of his death and is reported to have done good work in the prevention of plague. I recommend that the son may be given a scholarship of Rs.20 per month till he completes 20 years of age and the amount may be drawn by the widow and utilized for family maintenance and education of the boy, the tenure of the scholarship being subject to favourable reports being received periodically as to the progress of the boy in school. His Highness has already sanctioned allowances to the families of some of the deceased servants of the State. There is also the precedent of Mrs. White, to whom the Government of India granted in 1880 a bonus of a year's salary of her husband who died of disease contracted while in the execution of famine duty.

The Humble Memorial of Janakiboyee, Widow of the late Narasing Bhan, Amildar of Davangere most respectfully sheweth:-

Having entered service as a Pupil Teacher in the year 1876 under Mr. Arbuthnot, then Head Master of the Hassan High School, the husband of Your Highness's unfortunate Memorialist rose to a position of confidence and trust as that of an Amildar after many years of honest hard work in humble situations. He was Ward Officer both in Mysore and Bangalore during the years 1899 to 1901 and did his work so satisfactorily that he earned the approbation of the Plague Officers Drs.Chokshee, Autchuta Rao and the Plague Commissioner. In recognition of his good work, he was made Deputy Amildar and posted to Hosadoorg. After a fortnight Deputy Commissioner Mr.M.Narrain Rao transfered him to Harihar, plague having broken out there. Here also he rendered good service and was made an Amildar and posted to Holalkere in February 1903.

Thus it will be seen he was employed on Plague duty for several years in Bangalore, Mysore and Harihar. He remained only two months in Holalkere, when, owing to the exegencies of public service, he was temporarily transferred to Davangere where plague was prevalent. While engaged in taking such measures as were necessary to stamp out the disease, he succumbed to it on the 4th of September last leaving behind him the -- Memorialist and her four young children, (three daughters, and a son only seven years old) to bemoan his loss. Mr.Chengiah Chetty, Sub Divisional Officer who was then at Davangere and the Deputy Commissioner of Chitaldoorg, Mr. Ramanuja Iyengar are aware of this fact.

Till recently his income was just sufficient to maintain his large family, he having sent at great expense his brother to Dhera-Doon College to study for forestry. Unfortunately this young man died two years ago.

Just when he came to a position where he could lay by something for the support of his family, he was snatched away by plague, which sad event, has left Your Highness's Memorialist and her children almost destitute. The three Life Insurance Policies under Your Highness's Government will bring in a sum of Rs.1925/-. It is impossible for your Highness's Memorialist to bring up and educate her young children and marry and settle the three daughters in life with this small sum. She therefore throws herself on Your Highness's Mercy and Generosity and prays that in consideration of her late husband's hard and honest services rendered to the State and untimely death while on plague duty, she may be favoured with a suitable bonus and a compassionate allowance to enable her to bring up her children, educate the boy and marry the daughters when they attain their proper age.

For this act of generosity Your Highness's Memorialist will ever pray for your Highness's long life and prosperous rule.

Sir,

With reference to your official memorandum No. Pct 867 dated the 23rd B Ultimo, forwarding for report a memorial addressed to His Highness the Maharaja by Janakibayi, widow of the late Mr Narasimha Bhan (Amildar of Davangere) who died of plague in September last at Davangere, praying for a bonus and Compassionate allowance being granted to her in consideration of her late husband's good Services to the State, I have the honor to state that the late Mr Narasimha Bhan was

was placed in Charge of the Davangere Taluk when plague was on the increase at Davangere, and in combating the disease and preventing its spread he spared no pains. The repair of the plague Sheds had been neglected by his predecessor although the work had been sanctioned on his urgent representation. The late Mr. Narasinga Rao lost no time in completing the repairs, and succeeded in making the plague camp popular. He was fearless in visiting the infected parts of the town and doing his best to alleviate the sufferings of the people and rendering them all possible help. With equal intrepidity he personally attended to the wants and conveniences of the plague patients and contacts in the plague Camp. He further exerted himself in prevailing upon the people to evacuate the town which they had been most unwilling to do, and also did much for the thorough disinfection of their houses. Moving as he was frequently doing

doing in the highly infected parts, it seems extremely probable that he caught the infection in the discharge of his duty. He succumbed to the fell disease in the prime of life, leaving his unfortunate widow and 4 young children in a miserable plight.

2. I beg, therefore, strongly to recommend the prayer of the Memorialist for the favorable consideration of Government.

3. The Memorial received with the above is herewith resubmitted.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
your most obedient Servant
